Step 1: Things Needed

 1. Any old CD
2. Acrylic color (preferably dark color) Takes a day to dry the paint!! So incorporate into your time frame. Some used fabric paint, said worked ok too!
3. Paint brush
4. Pencil to make your design!
5. Anything with sharp point to scratch the color (I used the arm of the screwdriver)

6. A bottle of spray-on varnish costs about $6, and it lasts FOREVER
Though a layer of varnish is usually hardly visible. Warning: cover nose and mouth and spray it outside.

What others did:

Very nice! This def stirs the pot of creativity! I painted one a metallic blue, drew snowflakes with different colored sharpies and then scratched some areas leaving some of the marker. Gave it some depth. Also wrote "Let it snow" and did the dots on the end of the letters like some crafty's do and scratched the dots. Nice work!
