Assessing My Virtual Program

Please use these questions to build on what you have done in the past (face-to-face storytimes) and what you hope to achieve online. As you practice and continue to do virtual storytimes, you will become comfortable with the format and especially incorporating early literacy tips.

Did I feel comfortable with the format?
    Did I think of my audience as the participants in my library storytime?

What were the positive take-aways from the storytime?
    Did I pause when asking questions to children?
    Did I slow my delivery?
    Did I try to enjoy myself as I would at the library?

Did I incorporate early literacy content? Would it help to post my tip for parents and caregivers?

Did I feel comfortable with my early literacy tips?

Did I feel well-prepared for the storytime?
    Did I practice and read before I taped my storytime?
    Did I have my props ready to go?
    Did I practice "on camera" to see how I looked?

Did I feel comfortable with my plans?
    Was there a good flow or segue between my segments?

Do I have the words for fingerplays and rhymes written out for parents/for myself?
    Should I write out words on a white board? Library link?

Did I have fun?
